CULTIVATING RESILIENCE DURING TIMES OF UNCERTAINTY

In this Age of Burnout and within The Great Resignation, leaders and employees need tangible ways to optimize work environments that foster resilience, camaraderie, psychological safety, and trust. Learn evidence-based habits, mindsets, and practices to help create organizational cultures that strive to protect against the risk of burnout, exhaustion, and overstimulation, while optimizing talent, strengths, and resources for individual and collective well-being. Learn the difference between a "what if" outlook vs. "what is", and ways to stay and do well even in times of uncertainty. This virtual session provides a toolbox of interactive, practical, evidence-based strategies to cultivate resilience and a build a culture of connection and positive impact.
